1											Compensated Outside Professional Activities ("OPA") of Deans and certain fulltime Faculty Administrators are to be reported annually in accordance with APM - 240, Deans and APM - 246, Faculty Administrators 100 percent time, respectively. For this 2011-2012 report, The Regents approved reporting on an 18-month basis. This one-time change was necessary so that reporting could be converted from a calendar to fiscal year cycle, in conformity with the reporting requirement for all faculty under APM - 025, Conflict of Commitment and Outside Activities of Faculty Members. Due to the lengthened 18-month cycle of the 2011-12 report, the figures reported under the "Time Served" column may exceed 12 days, with no vacation days deducted under "Vacation Taken," appearing in non-compliance with APM – 240-20c(4) and APM – 246-20c(4). For all entries, the actual days worked and vacation days taken during a 12-month period are in compliance with both policies.
2											Per Academic Personnel Policy ("APM") 240-20 Conditions of Employment. .c. Conflict of Commitment and Outside Professional Activities A Dean may engage in outside activities as defined by and in accordance with APM - 025, Conflict of Commitment and Outside Activities of Faculty Members, with the following additional provisions:. . . 4) A Dean may engage in compensated outside professional activity up to twelve (12) University workdays per fiscal year without deducting from vacation leave balances. In excess of twelve (12) days, a Dean shall use accrued vacation leave for performing compensated outside professional activities.

025-10 Guidelines for Compensated Outside Professional Activities

. . . b. Time Limits on Compensated Outside Professional Activities

The following time limits apply to each fiscal year. Allowable days not used one year may not be carried forward to the next year.

A full-time faculty member on an academic-year appointment normally may engage in compensated outside professional activities for up to 39 days from the start of the fall term through the end of the spring term (including intersession), or during the equivalent of an academic year if the campus is operating on a year-round schedule. There are no restrictions on the number of days of compensated outside professional activity for academic-year faculty during the summer months (or equivalent term, if on a year-round schedule) unless an academic-year faculty member is receiving University compensation for the summer (or equivalent term). If an academic-year faculty member is receiving University summer (or equivalent term) compensation, then the applicable limit on compensated outside professional activities is the equivalent of one day per week during the period in which compensation is received.

A full-time faculty member on a fiscal-year appointment may engage in compensated outside professional activities for up to 48 days during the months of active service. There are no restrictions on the number of days of compensated outside professional activity during the periods of vacation leave (unless the faculty member is earning additional University compensation during the vacation leave).

For part-time faculty (i.e., those with less than a full-time appointment), the applicable time limit is prorated based on their percentage appointment at the University. In addition, compensated outside professional activity conducted during the remaining percentage of time is at the faculty member's discretion. For example, a 50 percent academic year appointee would be allowed 19.5 days (39 x .50) during the academic year, some or all of which could be conducted during the faculty member's normal University working hours provided that the faculty member had otherwise fulfilled his or her obligations to the University. In addition, the faculty member could engage in additional compensated outside professional activities during the time not committed to the University.

The Chancellor may approve in writing compensated outside professional activities which exceed these time limits for an individual faculty member, or a group of faculty, when in the Chancellor's opinion the activity benefits the University.
